

Troops Won't Be Sent To Laos Now

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration was reported today on the verge of important decisions dealing with the strife in Laos. But officials ruled out any possibility U.S. troops would be sent there now.

The officials made clear, however, that every other range of action is under consideration. And President Kennedy may discuss possible courses of action when he meets with the National Security Council.

Kennedy described the Laos situation Friday as "most serious... It is a matter of the greatest concern to us."

Addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the President said the fact that pro-Communist forces have not heeded the call of neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma to halt attacks on neutralist troops "raised the question of the imminent destruction of the Geneva accords."

"We will have a change to see in the next few days," Kennedy added.

The Geneva accords, signed by 14 nations, guaranteed Laos' neutrality under a coalition government.

But fighting has broken out again. Pathet Lao pro-Communist forces are driving to smash neutralist troops in the strategic Plaine des Jarres in east-central Laos. Its capture would solidify the pro-Communist domination of northern Laos.

Loss of the Plaine also would destroy the middle ground the neutralists occupied between the rightist and leftist armies.

There was speculation that the United States could either send back its forces into Thailand, or call on other members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to speed up the date for military maneuvers now scheduled for mid-June in northern Thailand.

The SEATO maneuvers, planned long before the current emergency, involve ground operations, paratroopers and air drops in a counterinsurgency exercise.

All eight SEATO nations are scheduled to take part in some phase of the operation—the United States, Thailand, the Philippines, Pakistan, Australia, New Zealand, Britain and France.

First Quarter Report On Hope C. of C.

As the Chamber of Commerce looks back over the first quarter of the year, we realize we can point with pride to our positive points and accomplishments while at the same time we have some regrets. We used the month of January to take inventory of our assets and found that we had the following totals of employment:

Manufacturing 1,202; Agriculture 1,500; service 613; retailing 369; utilities and transportation, 136; medical 200; wholesaling 146; federal, state and county 263; automotive 99; schools 152. The grand total of people working in the county came to 3,680.

Since we have not taken another inventory, we believe this figure to be slightly higher now as spring usually brings on higher employment. There have been some temporary lay-offs at 2 plants but these workers are now returning to their jobs. Our Town Hall Meeting on January 31st was attended by 125 persons who heard the AIDC outline plans for a Dollar Shed idea and suggested that Hope might become the center of such an area. I have explored possibilities of such a development primarily with an idea to making Hope the center of a feed grain producing area to feed the 5 million chickens on feed in the area plus the thousands of cattle in Hempstead and surrounding counties. Exploratory talks have been held and plans for experimental plots are already underway. A large dryer need of the future and southwest and storage facilities are the Arkansas farmers will need to be made cognizant of the tremendous possibilities in feed grain production.

February brought a member.

Asks Dismissal of Petition

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—The dismissal of a petition asking a continuance of a hearing on the results of a local option liquor election last November will be appealed, State Rep. Nathan Schoenfeld of Hot Springs said Thursday.

The petition was dismissed Tuesday by Ouachita County Judge J. B. Cross. Schoenfeld, who represents "wet" forces seeking the hearing, said he would take the appeal to the Ouachita Circuit Court.

The hearing was postponed once because Schoenfeld was serving in the 1963 legislature. The latest delay was sought because the representative entered a Hot Springs hospital Sunday for surgery.

The vote in the election was 4,461 to 4,277 in favor of the "drys." The "wets" are seeking a recount and a delay in certification of the vote.

Strawberries Didn't Regain Lost Ground

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Staff Writer

In 1962, Arkansas' strawberry crop was grown on 17,000 acres. The following year, dry weather and unfavorable growing conditions knocked the acreage down to 7,500. Growers have never regained the lost ground.

In fact, acreage since 1953 has never been as high as 7,500. While other Arkansas fruit crops have not shown such dramatic drops in production, only one—grapes—has had any increase. Apple, peach and watermelon crops in recent years have declined steadily from the production of the 1930s and 1940s.

The Crop Reporting Service of the Department of Agriculture stopped estimating the size of the pear crop in 1960.

Roy E. Lambert, marketing specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service, traced the reasons for this remarkable decline chiefly to poor growing conditions, lack of mechanization and high labor costs, increasing competition and the unwillingness of growers to take the risks involved in producing fruit crops.

But, he added, it is possible the trend may be reversed within the next few years.

The use of fertilizer and insecticides to increase yield per acre may make fruit crops more attractive to growers, he said, but the main stimulus will come with location of more canning industries in the state.

Two such plants are Birdseye, which has been at Searcy some 12 years, and the new Gerber facility going in at Fort Smith.

If fruit growers had mechanized their operations, Lambert said, Arkansas probably never would have declined as a fruit producing state.

As it is, such states as Missouri and Florida, which once ranked far behind Arkansas in watermelon production, have greatly surpassed the state.

Between 1952 and 1961, Arkansas growers planted an average of 9,200 acres of watermelons a year. The harvested an average of 77.1 million pounds, valued at $912,000.

Last year only 6,200 acres were planted, yielding 52.7 million pounds at a value of $553,000. Watermelon production has declined almost every year since 1955, when 12,700 acres were planted, yielding 111.8 million pounds valued at $1,235,000.

The state now ranks 13th in watermelon production, behind Florida, California, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Texas, Arizona, Indiana, Maryland and Virginia.

Florida produced 825 million pounds last year—a crop valued at $10,176,000.

The 1962-61 average on strawberries shows 2,158 pounds grown on 7,430 acres in Arkansas. Average value was $2,275,000.

Last year, only 1,500 pounds were harvested off 6,300 acres for sales totaling $1,548,000.

In comparison, California last year grew 207.9 million pounds with a value of $36,491,000.

Other states ranking ahead of Arkansas in 10th place are Florida, Louisiana, Tennessee, New York, New Jersey, Michigan, Washington and Oregon.

Arkansas' peach crop last year totaled 1,020,000 bushels valued at $2,856,000. This was 484,000 bushels and $391,000 less than the 1952-61 average of 1,504,000 bushels valued at $3,247,000, and 1,230,000 bushels and $1,254,000 less than 1956 the last peak year, when 2,250,000 bushels valued at $4,110,000.

Thinks State Might Go Republican

CHICAGO (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller feels there is a strong possibility Arkansas could go Republican on the presidential level in 1964.

Rockefeller, National Republican Committeeman for Arkansas, said in Chicago Thursday he would have to follow his state's delegates' directions at the Republican Party national convention, even if it means voting against his brother.

Rockefeller emphasized that there had been no split between him and his brother, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York. "I am for my brother 100 per cent," he said.

Rockefeller said it was conceivable that Arkansas would probably prefer conservative Barry Goldwater because of the growing conservatism in the south.

He reported strong sentiment for the Arizona senator as a Republican nominee for president next year.

He was in Chicago in connection with fund raising for the National Association for Mental Health.

Denies Promise Of Aid To Invade Cuba

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has denied ever promising a U.S. invasion of Cuba and has ruled out that kind of venture now.

"It would be a mistake," he said.

But "time will see Cuba free again," the President told the American Society of Newspaper Editors Friday, "and I think when that happens the record will show that the United States has played a significant role."

The President also ruled out another kind of venture: an administration onslaught against the steel industry for raising prices last week.

Kennedy described the boosts as selected price increases that were "responsive to market situations."

"It represents, really, about a 1 per cent price increase for steel products which restores, really, the 1 per cent that has been lost since 1959 in the price of steel," Kennedy told the editors.

But the President said he was concerned about the psychological effect of the increase and hoped steel-using manufacturers would absorb the new costs and not pass them on to the public.

"I know the steel industry, it seems to me, has acted with some restraint in this case, which I think is very useful," he said. "I am hopeful that other companies, particularly in the auto industry, will act with similar restraint, and that the union itself will guide its conduct in accordance with its long-range interest, which is the national interest."

But the editors, while curious whether the country would see a repeat of the Kennedy-steel battle of last year, seemed more concerned about Cuba than steel prices. At least, the bulk of their questions, submitted in writing, touched on the Communist state of Fidel Castro.

Kennedy was asked to comment on the accusation by Cuban refugee leader Jose Miro Cardon that Kennedy had reneged on a promise to invade Cuba.

"Nobody in the United States government ever informed anyone in the government or outside the government, Dr. Cardon or anyone else, that we were going to launch, committed ourselves to launch, a military invasion with six divisions," the President said.

Kennedy said "the United States cannot launch itself into a massive invasion of Cuba without considering the world-wide implications to other free countries and also its effect upon our own position."

But the President said he hoped the refugees did not see the present situation as "a struggle between the United States and the exiles."

Few Plan a Markup on Steel Items

By ROGER LANE

NEW YORK (AP)—Few manufacturers of steel-using items plan early markups on their products as a result of the selective price increases by steelmaking suppliers.

Most of them still are mulling over the situation or seeking more information, a spot check by The Associated Press across the country showed today.

The construction industry appeared a possible exception.

J. J. Buckley, executive vice president of the Youngstown Steel Door Co., estimated the steel price rise will cause an increase of about two per cent in his company's prices.

In New Brunswick, N.J., Triangle Conduit & Cable Co. served notice of an indirect price rise on steel conduit used to enclose electrical wiring in buildings.

In Atlanta, Georgia's Highway Department director, Jim Gillis, said "the steel price increase will mean fewer bridges. We have just so much money."

Automakers, who use about a ton of steel per vehicle, had nothing to say but informed estimates placed the increase in manufacturing costs attributable to the steel price rise at from $25 to $50 per car.

Sources in Detroit said they expect no change in price tags on 1963 models. What will happen when 1964 models start rolling, this fall is a matter of speculation, they said.

GP Advised Mill Will Be Closed

SPRINGFIELD, Ore. (AP)—Employees of the Georgia-Pacific Sawmill at Springfield have been advised by letter that the mill will be permanently closed April 26.

J. O. Dixon, manager, told the more than 200 employees the mill "has not and cannot be operated profitably under the market conditions that we have had and expect to have."

The mill and vast timberholdings that went with it were bought from Booth-Kelly Co. by Georgia-Pacific in 1959 in what was then termed the largest timber transaction in Pacific Northwest history. The stock purchase was recorded at $93 million.

Declares JFK Backed Down on Cuba Deal

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, stepping down as leader of Cubans in exile, charges that President Kennedy has given Fidel Castro "absolute immunity in the execution of Khrushchev's sinister designs."

In a 6,500-word resignation letter that split the Cuban Revolutionary Council apart, Miro accused Kennedy of backing out on a promise of a second invasion and of "liquidating" the struggle for Cuba.

And he warned that the Soviet premier, "day by day, will increase his army of local Communists" in the Western Hemisphere until a "terrifying catastrophe" develops.

In support of Miro and his stand, nine members of the 16-man council quit during a 4½-hour session that followed Miro's departure.

No successor was chosen to head the council, which was formed with U.S. government support to launch the futile invasion at the Bay of Pigs. But Dr. Manuel Antonio de Varona, Miro's right-hand man, said he would seek to strengthen the council by wooing more of the many exile groups into its ranks. And he said every effort would be made to gain U.S. help for the Cuban exile cause.

Miro, first prime minister of the Castro regime who later defected, said Kennedy told him at a meeting in the White House April 10, 1962, nearly a year after the first invasion, that the problem of Cuba was essentially a military one and that the council should contribute the major contingent of soldiers.

"I left the White House with the assurance that the liberation of Cuba would follow soon with Cubans at the vanguard in battle," he said. He indicated that this was to be in connection with the Cuban blockade that President Kennedy proclaimed Oct. 22, 1962.

Later, he said, U.S. policy on Cuba "shifted suddenly, violently and unexpectedly" and "the struggle for Cuba was in the process of being liquidated by the government."

The United States was the victim of a "master move" by the Soviets, Miro declared.

During the negotiations that followed the blockade, he asserted, Khrushchev maintained his attack and subversion base in the Caribbean, strengthened Castro's military capacity to the point where he could smash an uprising of the Cuban people, and "immobilized" the United States and the rest of the Western Hemisphere.

"These, in all their crude reality, are the facts," Miro said.

"The repeated assurances, the constantly renewed promises, have been suddenly liquidated."

No one forbids his reading any book there that he wishes. And children are great patrons of our library. What about trends in adult reading? In recent years non-fiction has taken precedence over fiction locally, as well as nation-wide. Books which give instruction in "how to" do everything from making a cake to painting a house have been particularly popular.

Freedom to Read Is Perhaps the Best One -- Next Week Is National Library Week

MARY ANITA LASETER

All are quite familiar with the Four Freedoms, but a Fifth Freedom has recently been called to our attention. Freedom to read is something we in America possess. Freedom to read what and when we desire. There are some people in our world who would marvel at such a freedom that we simply take for granted.

Next week, April 21-27 is National Library Week, a good time to take advantage of our Hempstead - Nevada Regional Library and its branches in Fulton, Blevins, Washington and Prescott. In a recent article about Pasadena, Calif., which "McCall's" magazine calls the Best-Read City in the USA, we learned that a city which reads a great many books looks different, physically, in small but significant ways from a city that does not.

Perhaps that stems from the fact that knowledge and culture do not have to be advertised. They speak for themselves.

How complete is the library at 5th and South Elm in Hope? It will never be "complete," for additions are made continually, but at the present time some 40,000 books are on its shelves. And there are 278 film strips and 300 recordings available, too.

In addition to the stationary libraries, there is a library on wheels which goes to different parts of the area three days a week. This Bookmobile is built to hold 1,600 books, giving those rural patrons ample opportunity for a wide selection of reading matter.

Reading is habit-forming and also contagious. But it is one such "infectious" that is recommended for all. And, since children read if their parents do, it is certainly a parental habit that children benefit from copying.

Children like to go to the library for different reasons, but one of them is that the library is one of the few places a child can make his own decisions. No one forbids his reading any book there that he wishes. And children are great patrons of our library. Says Rock Trucks Ruining Highway

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Automobile Association says dump trucks hauling rock on U.S. Highway 65 between Little Rock and Pine Bluff are creating a serious traffic hazard.

Frank M. Potter, AAA manager, said his group may have to contact the American Automobile highway.

He said complaints received by his office indicate the fleet of trucks, hauling rock to bank re-vestment projects along the Arkansas River, are traveling at high speed, losing some rocks because they are loaded unnecessarily high, and are following one another too closely.

One AAA member reported to Potter that he rounded a curve and almost crashed into what he described as a small boulder in the middle of the road. Potter said he has received reports of cars damaged by the rocks.

The rock is coming from quarries just off Highway 65 about a mile south of Sweet Home. Potter asked law enforcement agencies to take action to reduce the hazard.

Brief Is Accepted by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The federal government acknowledged in a brief filed in U.S. District Court Thursday that it could not prove fraud in some of the income tax matters of the Florida brothers of Osceola, Ark.

And it conceded that two assessments made by the Internal Revenue Service are barred by the statute of limitations.

But it charged that Andrew J. Florida owes taxes, penalties and interest on $1.2 million which it charges was fraudulently unreported over a four-year period.

It also charged that George H. Florida owes taxes, penalties and interest on about $951,353 of unreported income.

The government said income from some 13 Florida corporations also was not reported.

The brief was a routine step in the drawn-out income tax evasion case against the Floridas and a number of Arkansas and Tennessee corporations controlled by them.

Oral arguments have been completed in the case. There was no indication when U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley will hand down a decision.

The annual meeting of stockholders will also be held next week. The Crossett Co., was acquired last summer by Georgia-Pacific.

Titan Missile Still Plagued By Failure

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Titan 2 missile, already plagued by a vibration problem which makes it presently unacceptable for manned space flight, has encountered an old bugaboo—second stage propulsion failure.

One of the intercontinental range rockets roared aloft Friday on an intended 5,000-mile test flight, but halfway through the second stage the engine suddenly quit and the vehicle plummeted into the Atlantic Ocean far short of its goal.

The failure, fifth in 13 shots, could have a delaying effect on Titan 2's development as the United States' most powerful war rocket and also on the Project Gemini manned space program. Titan 2 has been selected as the booster for the two-man Gemini capsule.

All five Titan 2 failures resulted from premature shutdown of the upper stage powerplant. The problem cropped up early in the program and the Air Force called a halt in flight testing for nearly two months last summer to make corrections.

Six of the next eight shots were successful, and officials felt the problem was licked, until Friday. Exact cause of the latest failure was not pinpointed immediately.

The fizzle came as engineers were attempting to reduce a longitudinal vibration which had rippled through the missile on all previous flights.

The vibration did not affect Titan 2's performance as a military weapon but the National Aeronautics and Space Administration considers it unsatisfactory for Gemini manned missions because the shaking might prevent the astronauts from clearly reading the instrument panel during the critical boost phase.

Of most concern is the possibility the pilots might not readily detect an abort-sensing light designed to warn them to trigger their escape system in case of an emergency.

243 Food Coupons Are Issued

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Independence County welfare officials said today that they had issued $11,393 worth of food coupons to 243 households during the first 15 days of April.

Ray Bone, supervisor of the food coupon issuance office, said this meant 797 persons were participating in the program. He said the totals were well below the maximums expected by his office, but that he expected the number of participants to rise as understanding of the program increased.

He said 300 households had been certified to receive the coupons.

Another Try in Argentina Is Repulsed

By ROBERT BÉRELLEZ
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Military chiefs indicated Thursday night they had nipped another power bid by navy and civilian rebels who staged an abortive revolt April 2.

The armed forces and the interior ministry headed by Gen. Enrique Rauch reaffirmed their pledge to hold presidential elections scheduled for June 23. The public regarded the promises of balloting with apathy and skepticism.

The military remained on the alert, and tension continued to hang over Buenos Aires. Armed patrols roamed downtown streets as they have for the past three nights. There were unconfirmed reports that tank and anti-aircraft units had been ordered to bases near the capital.

A defense ministry communique said the latest plot was being foisted by a small minority involved in psychological warfare to offset their previous defeat.

The interior ministry reported earlier that seven advisers of deposed President Arturo Frondizi had been arrested and charged with plotting a Communist revolution. It said eight others were being sought.

President Jose Maria Guido, reported ill, conferred at length with the military chiefs at his suburban home.

There has been speculation that the new government policy contemplates further curbs on the powerful Peronist vote. It is known that military circles are split over the Peronist issue, basic cause of the 13-month-old Argentine crisis.

However, Rauch said that no further tightening of restrictions on supporters of former dictator Juan D. Peron was contemplated. The Peronists supposedly will be allowed a limited role in the June elections for president and congress.

The nominating committee was appointed with Mrs. Inez Compton as chairman. Mrs. Irma Gunter and Mrs. Jewell Cobb will assist. A vote of thanks was expressed to Mrs. Lahroy Spates for the lovely poppy arrangements she made for the district meeting. The business meeting was closed with prayer.

Mrs. O'Neal introduced Miss Charlotte Pickens, State Welfare Consultant from Columbia County, who gave a very interesting and informative talk about her work. IS HE A HEN-PECKED HUSBAND?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

A letter written by R. E. Roth and recently published in the "Letters to the Editor" column of the Lancaster (Pa.) Intelligencer Journal, makes me wonder if he is a hen-pecked husband or a crocheted old bachelor. From his line of attack I'd say the former.

"Helen Erskine, like most women writers, dishes out the same old stock answer," he fumes, then jumps up and down on his hat because I advised a husband to renew his courting days if he wanted his departing wife to stay put, which he evidently did.

Mr. Roth assures us that, "Many not getting what they say 'belongs to a woman,' search and easily find a Romeo."

But, according to him, there's no satisfying a woman for, "After a few years of confused kids and a brand new marriage, the wife finds herself right back with the same old problem — an unromantic husband who just does not feel like a Romeo."

"Now if she wants her husband to become a warm lover showering her with attention, she'll not get it by sulks and threats. Like a union leader he'll fire demands at her too. He'll say, 'All right, if you want me to lavish you with attention, give me some of that stuff too. You make me a king and I'll make you a queen. No king, no queen . . . In statistics on good marriages you will always find one big thing — mutual helpfulness given sincerely and unconditionally.'"

That is exactly my "same old stock" answer, Mr. Roth!

Dear Helen: Come now! You cannot be serious when you state that striptease is moral. It means exactly what the term implies. Why not call a spade a spade? You certainly wouldn't approve of a stripper doing her act at a church social. Personally, don't care what anyone does. It is just that I hate hypocrisy in any form. You must be very naive.

—Blanche Davis, Leavittsburg, Ohio

Dear Blanche: I'm a realist with a heart! Stripteasing is not immoral. Only thinking makes it so. Three cheers for the Broadway stars — and I know many — who have come up the burlesque strip-tease route and aren't ashamed to say so. To pretend to be something you are not is to be a phony, a snob or, to borrow a phrase from my grandmother, "a sanctimonious whited."

It said eight other men are being sought. Frondizi is a semipolitical prisoner in the southern Argentine mountain resort of Bariloche. He was overthrown March 28, 1962 by military leaders who blamed him for election victories posted by followers of ex-president Juan D. Peron.

Army patrols appeared suddenly on the streets of Buenos Aires overnight, bringing new fears of another military crisis. There have been three major military uprisings in the last 14 months. No explanation was given for the military patrols.

An Interior Ministry communique said the seven arrested and the eight being sought were members of a group known as the "Frigeristas." This is a reference

Integration at Memphis Is Argued

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arguments for and against total and immediate desegregation of Memphis' public facilities were to be completed before the Supreme Court.

Yesterday the Justice Department submitted a "friend of the court" brief asserting that public authorities of Memphis "failed to make any case at all" to justify delay in desegregating the facilities.

The brief was in support of arguments by counsel for 11 Memphis Negroes, who contended the city should be required to desegregate immediately its public parks, playgrounds and other recreational facilities.

The Counsel, Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, a New York City attorney, had asked the court to reverse lower federal court rulings that Memphis could continue carrying out its plan for gradual desegregation of such facilities.

Thomas R. Prewitt, counsel for Memphis, argued that many steps had been taken by the city in the last five years toward desegregation. He said many administrative problems and other difficulties would be created by immediate and total integration of all facilities.

Prewitt said the city's gradual plan met the standard planned by the Supreme Court in 1955 when it permitted time for desegregation of public schools.

Mrs. Motley argued that the 1955 Supreme Court decision was never intended to cover anything but public schools.

Bond for Shackney, 52, was continued at $15,000. The Middlefield chicken farmer was convicted March 13 on the six counts of holding members of the Luis Humberto Oros family in involuntary servitude on his farm for eight months.

His trial in federal court at New Haven lasted 22 days. It was the first known case of its kind in Connecticut.

The stocky, white-haired part-time religious teacher originally was charged with two counts of peonage and seven of involuntary servitude.

The peonage charges, which involve holding someone against his will until he pays a debt, were dropped during the trial. So was one count of involuntary servitude.

Spring Boom in Housing Is Underway

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — A spring boom in housing is under way. Building starts are well ahead of last year. The mortgage business is brisk.

Part of the increase in construction is credited to the generally improved economic situation. Personal incomes are up and more families have the money in hand or in sight to induce them to buy a new home.

Industrial production is rising and so are retail sales, both adding to public confidence. And whether it's inflationary, the selective rise in steel prices may lead many who yearn for a new home to feel that the economy is moving again.

Part of the increase in home building is traced to easier credit terms. Lending institutions have more available funds than a year ago.

The competition to put this money to work profitably has led some lenders to grant longer terms on mortgages. This brings in some new buyers who would find it hard to meet tighter terms.

And part of the increased building is credited to the growth of special housing programs, such as those designed for older persons. Their number grows each year. Other housing units under way are traced to a rush to beat changes in zoning and other regulations.

Spring itself, of course, is a basic reason for a spurt right now. Good weather helps the builder, and it kindles the home-owning urge in many breasts.

Add them all up and they spell increased construction in March and April with mortgage applications suggesting a continuance of the boom for some time.

The Census Bureau reports the rate of housing starts rose 17 per cent from February to March in the nation as a whole. The biggest jump was in the Northeast where much of the 68 per cent increase over February was credited to apartment building.

The annual rate in March was 1,494,000 units, the highest since the 1962 peak rate of 1,586,000 set in November. Permits for future construction are running 8 per cent ahead of a year ago.

The Federal Housing Administration reports applications for government insurance on mortgages running at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 197,000. The rate at the Veterans Administration is put at 152,000.

Actual building of new housing units last year came to 1,452,000, many regions continued to have building booms, although sales slowed down notably in others.

The Federal Home Loan Bank says that mortgage debt increased more in 1962 than in any previous year. It was up $15.2 billion, or 10 per cent, to a total of $168.3 billion.

Some of the increase, the bank says, was due to larger mortgages and higher selling prices on bigger houses. But it also notes the scramble of lending institutions to put their money to work, which brought in more customers attracted by easier payment terms, lower down payments, or lengthier mortgages.

The vote showed the drys won 4,461 to 4,277. The petition asked for a recount and delay in certification of the ballot.

The petitioners said they wanted a delay because their attorney, Rep. Nathan Schoenfeld of Hot Springs, had been hospitalized at Little Rock for surgery.

Denies Plea for Election Hearing

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—A petition asking continuance of a hearing on results of a local option liquor election at Camden last year was denied Tuesday by Onacha County Judge J. B. Cross.

Cross ruled the petition should be dismissed at the cost of the contestants and that the dry forces had won the election.

The vote showed the drys won 4,461 to 4,277. The petition asked for a recount and delay in certification of the ballot.

The petitioners said they wanted a delay because their attorney, Rep. Nathan Schoenfeld of Hot Springs, had been hospitalized at Little Rock for surgery.

Kept Family in Servitude on a Farm

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—David I. Shackney was sentenced today to one year in prison—the term to be suspended after 60 days—on one count of keeping members of a Mexican family in involuntary servitude on his chicken farm.

He received one-year suspended sentences on each of five other counts of involuntary servitude. He also was fined $2,000.

After Shackney's sentencing by Judge M. Joseph Blumenfeld in U.S. District Court, the defense said it would appeal.

Bond for Shackney, 52, was continued at $15,000. The Middlefield chicken farmer was convicted March 13 on the six counts of holding members of the Luis Humberto Oros family in involuntary servitude on his farm for eight months.

His trial in federal court at New Haven lasted 22 days. It was the first known case of its kind in Connecticut.

000 were produced. California, again the leader, produced 43,545,000 bushels valued at $61,686,000 last year.

Arkansas ranked 11th, behind California, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Colorado and Washington.

Arkansas never among the leaders in apple production, ranked 31st last year with a crop estimated at 225,000 bushels and valued at $428,000.

In comparison, the 1937 Arkansas crop totaled 1,660,000 bushels valued at $1,062,400.

The 1952-61 average was 228,000 bushels valued at $347,000.

On the other hand, grape production has shown some increase. Last year, 8,000 tons were produced. The crop was valued at $968,000. Production was good enough to put Arkansas in 8th place among other grape-producing states.

The 1952-61 average was 6,000 tons valued at $428,000, with the highest year being 1956 when 10,300 tons valued at $968,000 were produced.

But even the 1956 figure does not reach the heights of the 1930s. In 1932, the crop totaled 13,600 tons valued at $354,000.

California was tops last year with 2,850,000 tons valued at $61,686,000.

Other leading grape-producing states were New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Colorado and Washington.

In terms of the 1951-60 average, production in other states was up last year in apples, peaches and grapes. Strawberry production was generally down, although Missouri and Florida showed healthy increases.

Lambert said drought and long winters with unduly cold weather had knocked out much of the strawberry and peach crops, while high labor costs and increasing competition had made the other crops less profitable than they once were.

With the growing role of industry in Arkansas, Lambert said, growers are turning to alternative enterprises—either growing other crops of taking jobs in factories.

"These crops are hazardous," said, "There's more money and a lot more security in other jobs."

Production costs and competition go hand-in-hand, Lambert pointed out.

"When other states have watermelons, we have to have better, cheaper melons," he said.

Lambert said a great deal of the competition in strawberry marketing was coming from Mexico, where there is cheaper land, cheaper labor and less industry to draw off manpower.

...BUT IS IT ENOUGH? My program consists of some very special activities...services I perform every week. But I ask you, is that enough? Social work, church attendance, tithing of my income, teaching in Sunday school, these things I do, but I ask you... is that enough? God says, no! He expects more than good works. He expects you to surrender your life in full to Him. The sick must be attended. His church must be supported. There is work to be done. These are virtues pleasing to Him but He still expects full surrender of your life. Why not enlist in God's army this very day? Why not start to church regularly and take up your cross and follow Him all the way... then you won't have to ask, "Is My Program Enough?"

THE CHURCHES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION, THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted... to combat Communism on all fronts... to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD...

Be Strong in FAITH and Regular in ATTENDANCE at your CHURCH
